

Wind solar and energy storage sales

Overview

This report analyzes the burgeoning integrated wind, solar, and energy storage (IWES) market, focusing on the period 2019-2033. The study reveals a concentrated market, with key players like CEIC, SPIC, China Energy Engineering Group, and others dominating the landscape. Whether you're an investor, project developer, or policy maker, these insights will. As the global build-out of renewable energy sources continues at pace, grids are seeing unprecedented fluctuations between oversupply and undersupply due to the intermittent nature of renewables, such as solar photovoltaics and wind. Despite policy changes and uncertainty in the world's two largest markets, the US and China, the sector continues to grow as developers push forward with larger and larger utility-scale projects. Since 2024. Electricity generation by the U. electric power sector totaled about 4,260 billion kilowatthours (BkWh) in 2025. In our latest Short-Term Energy Outlook (STEO), we expect U. 6% in 2027, when it reaches an annual total of 4,423 BkWh.
